News reached Wisconsin that McCarthy had become a tail gunner with Scout Bomber Squadron VMSB-235, flying dangerous missions and spraying more bullets (4,700 in one sortie) than any marine in history. As McCarthy carefully molded his image for the folks back home, he told of ever more impressive exploits.

Fact from Fiction: Joseph McCarthy the Tail Gunner

A tail gunner or rear gunner is a crewman on a military aircraft who functions as a gunner defending against enemy fighter attacks from the rear, or "tail", of the plane. The tail gunner operates a flexible machine gun emplacement in the tail end of the aircraft with an unobstructed view toward the rear of the aircraft. While the term tail gunner is usually associated with a crewman inside a gun turret, the first tail guns were operated from open apertures within the aircraft's fuselage, like in Originally designed with a 20mm Cannon as well as a pair of 50 Cal's, the Tail Gunner utilized the same sophisticated sighting and firing computer as the other guns on the B-29. The 20mm Cannon was removed very early in combat due to inaccuracy because of the varying trajectory calculations between it and the 50's.
